SUGAR MAN QUIZZED BY LOBBY PROBERS

Palmer Testifies That Government Aided Anti-Free Sugar Campaign

SENATOR'S FRANKS USED

Federal Printing Office Turned Out Over 1,500,000 Copies of Arguments Favoring Industry

WASHINGTON, June 12.—How the government printing office and the postoffice department helped in the fight against free sugar and the congressional frank sent tons of anti-free sugar literature, circulating throughout the land was brought out today by the senate lobby investigators.

Truman G. Palmer, Washington representative of the United States beet sugar industry on the stand the entire day and the subject of a sweeping cross-examination testified that more than 1,500,000 copies of arguments in behalf of beet sugar had been turned out by the government printing office, made public documents by order of congress and had ridden on the franks of senators and representatives to the ends of the country, postage free.

Attain Large Circulation.

"Sugar at a glance," prepared by him, he said, had attained a circulation of 320,000 copies under the frank of Senator Lodge. "Report of the finance committee," by the same senator had beaten the pamphlet by 80,000 copies. The franks of Senator Smoot, former Senators Curtis and Dick and the late Representative Malby, former Representative Pickett and Representative Martin had swelled the total to more than a million and a half.

The printing of some of this number had been paid for by the beet sugar people, the witness said, but the free postage had saved them about $28,000. Mr. Palmer developed that "sugar at a second glance" which he intimated was inspired by the Federal Sugar Refining company and which was an argument in behalf of free sugar, had also been printed as a public document and circulated under the franking privileges. He did not say hor did the committee ask whose frank was so used.

Beet Men Spend Large Sum.

Mr. Palmer said that the beet men had spent about $160,000 in their campaign against free sugar since 1902. About $50,000 had been used since last November and about $14,000 of that amount since the beginning of the present congress session. Much of it had been spent in "publicity work" in printing and salaries. He said that the beet sugar producers in his association were assessed about 50 cents a ton he thought. The last assessment was made in April, bringing in about $18,000 and the previous one in February about $17,000.

Much of the day was spent in trying to find out all the details of how "sugar at a glance" came to be printed as a public document. Although Mr. Palmer was grilled for three hours, committeemen said they were about as much in the dark as they were when the pamphlet was first mentioned.

Charts On Senator Walls.

Palmer said that when Senator Lodge made a speech on sugar in July, 1912, the charts subsequently used in the pamphlet were on the walls of the senate chamber. Senator Lodge procured permission of the senate to have them printed as a public document. Accompanying these charts, Mr. Palmer declared, were certain printed speeches containing sugar information. Questioned by members of the committee the witness said that after the charts had been sent to the government printing office he had discovered that they were not suitable for publication. He therefore sent them to a private printing concern and had them prepared in a fashion he thought suitable. This he maintained was done with the knowledge of Senator Lodge and he considered that he was acting for the senator in the matter. Members of the committee expressed surprise that anyone should change something authorized to be printed by the senate. They brought out that the permission was obtained by Senator Lodge for printing on July 27th, and that one of several issues of "sugar at a glance" referred to an order from the senate on August 1st, in the same manner. The second order referred to data preferred by Truman G. Palmer and purported to be signed by Charles G. Bennett, then secretary of the senate.

Records Do Not Show Order.

Mr. Palmer said he supposed that the order had been made and that he got it in the proofs of the charts from the printing office. The congressional record of August 1st, according to Senator Cummins showed no such order nor did the journal of the senate nor the files in its document room.

"You substituted at the government printing office for the document you received from the clerk of the senate this privately printed copy " said Senator Reed

"I don't think that is a fair statement," said Palmer. "There was no subterfuge; there was nothing underhand. No one was decived. All was open and above board."

"I want to find out about this," said Senator Cummins. "It is a rather serious matter to forge a signature of the secretary of the senate to an order that never was made."

The committee finally dropped the question with the expressed determination to pursue it further. Senator Lodge will be heard in explanation if he desires to appear.

Mr. Palmer became indignant before he left the stand at Senator Reed's efforts to find out everything done by the beet men in Washington. He said he supposed they talked with senators and congressmen.

"I don't think business men are barred from the city of Washington," he added. "There is nothing disreputable in talking to senators and congressmen. I have been free to tell them what I thought and to try to convert them and prevent the ruin which I believe will result to the beet sugar industry from the bill in congress."

Mr. Palmer's examination will continue tomorrow. The committee tonight subpoenaed A. G. Robinson of Washington.

AVIATOR VOLPLANES TO DEATH AT LIMA

MACHINE CATCHES FIRE AND FALLS TWO HUNDRED FEET

Andrew Drew Killed As Result of Desire to Take "Just One Little Joy Ride"—Was Pupil of Orville Wright.

LIMA, O., June 12.—Andrew Drew, pupil of Orville Wright, volplaned to death here this afternoon in a blazing biplane. Drew was killed as a result of a desire to take "Just a little joy ride"—his last words to his partner—in a machine which he had not thoroughly tested. His partner in a local school of aviation, J. C. Brabason had urged him not to make the trip but Drew wished to try out the biplane.

He fell 200 feet, his burning machine falling like a torch hurled from the sky. He was instantly killed.

Drew and Brabason went out to the aviation grounds during the afternoon and Drew and his mechanicians set up the machine. It was dusk when they had finished. Drew was anxious to try out the machine and urged Brabason, who has made several flights with him to go along.

"Let's take just one little joy ride," he laughed, "and then I'll go and eat with you," said Drew.

Brabason demurred saying that it was getting too dark to fly. The machine which the aviator used was the one in which Calvin Rodgers made the last lap of his coast-to-coast flight two years ago.

Had Charge of Chicago Meet.

Chicago, June 12—Drew was well known in aviation circles in the middle west. He was in charge of last year's meet at Cicero field and was president of the Aviators' Association of America, organized to promote safe and sane flying. Before taking up aeroplanes he was a balloonist.

Formerly a Newspaperman.

St. Louis, Mo., June 12.—Andrew Drew, was one of the most adventureous wealthy young men of St. Louis. Although the son of a bank president, brought up in luxury with every opportunity to take up the cares of his father who died three years ago, Drew accepted a position on an afternoon newspaper. While a reporter he made a trip in a balloon to get a story. He was fascinated by the experience and qualified for a pilot's license. He studied aviation at Dayton, Ohio, and after graduation became director of the Cicero field in Chicago.

Later he established an aviation school in San Antonio, Texas, but went to Mexico during the Huerta revolution to cover an assignment for a St. Louis paper.

MAYOR OF NEW YORK WILLING TO RUN FOR RE-ELECTION

Gaynor Declares He Has No Party Back of Him But Is Satisfied.

New York, June 12.—Mayor Gaynor is willing to run for election. In a statement issued to day he said:

"Unless the Fusionists nominate me, I am out in the cold, unless some good people get together, who think I have done pretty well and nominate me by petition.

"I have no party back of me, often an uncomfortable position but I am satisfied. There are a lot of people dead against me. I have kept their hands out of the public treasury. I did not ask to be nominated for mayor. Something led me to it. I have been through a pretty tough time since. I bear the marks of physical and moral assassins upon me. I am content to go out carrying them."

PRITCHARD ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Bloomington, Ill., June 12.—Prof. O H. Pritchard, of Bethan, Neb., to day was elected president of Eureka College, Eureka, Illinois, to succeed C. E. Nnderwood, resigned.

ASSEMBLY TO FINISH WORK NEXT WEEK

Ten Days Recess Will Begin Friday After Which Adjournment Will Be Had

MAY CALL EXTRA SESSION

Speaker McKinley Lends His Aid in Passage of Administration Tax Commission Bill

UTILITY MEASURE PASSED

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—The forty-eighth general assembly will finish its work next Friday night and then recess for ten days when sine die adjournment will be taken.

This was the conclusion reached at the meeting with Governor Dunne tonight at which the members of the house rules committee and the members of the executive committee of the senate were present.

The scheme to continue the session straight through to June 30th and then adjourn sine die was not favored by the representative committees of the two houses. Members of the senate who disapproved of the plan to extend the session to the end of June feared that such action would let down the bars for the passage of a lot of bills which the upper branch of the general assembly does not care to handle at this late date.

Will Meet to Correct Mistakes.

Whether Governor Dunne will call a special session of the legislature later in the year depends largely on what is accomplished in the time intervening between now and next Friday night, when the session pratically will adjourn sine die. Ten days later the two houses will meet to correct any mistakes that may be found in their work and to receive any messages which the executive may have to deliver.

Tax Commission Bill Passes.

With the house in a turmoil that bordered on a riot, the administration tax commission bill, abolishing the state board of equalization which failed to pass last week was passed by the house today 79 to 44.

Speaker McKinley lent his aid to the passage of the bill. When the roll call was completed the measure had received but 76 votes, one short of the constitutional majority necessary for its passage. Without a request from the floor, Speaker McKinley ordered a call of the absentees and then directed the clerk to verify the roll.

These parliamentary procedures gave friends of the administration an opportunity to work.

Finally three Progressives, Messrs. Barron, Elliott and Boardman, fell in line for the bill.

Directing Clerk McCann to record them for the bill, Speaker McKinley announced the vote, saying:

"The ayes are 79, the nays 44. The bill having received a constitutional majority is declared passed." When placed on its passage the first time ten days ago, the tax commission bill received but 71 votes.

Proposed Anti-Saloon Bill Amended.

In the opinion of its friends the anti-saloon residence district bill practically was killed in the senate today by adoption of an amendment which permits the sale of liquor in quantities of one gallon or more in any anti-saloon territory for use by the purchaser in his home or by the members of his family.

Friends of the measure believe that under the amendment a wholesale liquor establishment may be opened in anti-saloon territory for the dispensing of beer, wines or liquors in quantities of one gallon or more and the liquor may even be drunk on the premises where it is purchased.

Warning that the amendment would nullify the other provisions was given by Senators Jones and Woodward.

Gorman Offers Amendment.

When the bill was called up by Senator Olson, Senator Gorman offered an amendment providing that nothing in the act shall be construed as preventing the sale or delivery of liquor in quantities of one gallon or more in any anti-saloon district for the use of any person in his own home.

Senator Gorman contended that without this amendment no person could lawfully have liquor in his household in anti-saloon territory. An attack was made on the bill by Senator Dailey of Peoria, who declared the bill made absolute prohibition territory of territory included in anti-saloon residence districts.

On roll call the senate by a vote of 13 to 31 refused to table Senator Gorman's amendment and then by a vote of 29 to 21 the amendment was adopted. The bill then was advanced to third reading.

Utility Bill Passed.

The administration public utility bill was passed by the house today by a vote of 89 ayes to 26 nays.

In the form which the bill passed the house it provides for one state commission to have control over rates, service and capitalization.

Police powers over utilities are left in the hands of local authorities and city councils.

In explaining the bill, Chairman Rapp, of the house utility committee, said the measure had not been injured by striking from it the "home rule feature," which provided city commissions and the substitution of one great state commission to have control of all utilities in the state.

FIVE ARE KILLED IN REAR-END COLLISION

FAST PASSENGER TRAINS CRASH TOGETHER AT STAMFORD, CONN.

Second Section of Springfield Express Ploughs Through Last Pullman Car of First Section—Scores Are Injured.

STAMFORD, Conn., June 12.—Five persons are dead and scores injured as the result of a rear-end collision on the main line of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad opposite the local passenger depot late today. The second section of the Springfield Express, westbound, crashed into the first section which was just leaving the station. The dead:

Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, Winthrop, Mass., wife of land agent of Canadian Pacific railway.

Mrs. Everett Halsey Woodruff, Flushing, N. Y.

Dr. Harmon G. Howe, Hartford, Conn.

Frank K. Confield, Springfield, Mass.

Unidentified woman at Pritchard's morgue.

The engine of the second section ploughed half way through the last Pullman car on the first section. In the car there was thirty-one passengers and practically all of them were injured. According to an official statement the indications are that the engineer of the second section ran by both the distant and home signals.

The Springfield Express was the same train that was in the wreck at Westport, Conn., last October, in which eight persons were killed and scores injured.

Simultaneous with the crash the wreckage took fire. The blaze, however, was quickly extinguished.

Early arrivals on the scene found Rev. Anthony Bernler, a Catholic priest of New York, cooly directing the work of rescue. Although injured himself, he refused to go to a hospital until others more seriously hurt had been taken care of. He is at the Stamford hospital with slight injuries.

At the Stamford hospital late tonight it was said that the injured were doing fairly well, with the exception of Gregory Humer, New York newspaper man. His death was expected before morning.

BRAZILIAN MINISTER ENTERTAINED AT STATE DINNER BY BRYAN

Dr. Lauro Muller, Here on Special Mission Spends Busy Day at Capital.

Washington, June 12.—A state dinner tonight by Secretary Bryan to Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian minister of foreign affairs here on special mission, closed a busy day of entertainment and sight seeing for the visitor. The program included an inspection of how the United States manufactures fourteen inch guns for the navy at the government plant here, a Pan-American Union luncheon and visits to the capitol and congressional library.

In the senate chamber, the senate not being in session Dr. Muller left his card at the desk of Senator Root whose visit to Brazil in 1906, as secretary of state he is repaying.

Tomorrow Dr. Muller will be taken to Annapolis and Secretary Garrison will give a dinner in his honor at night.

BOY MURDERER YOUNGEST LIFE PRISONER AT JOLIET PENITENTIARY

Herman Coppes Told Officials Place "Looks More Interesting Than Kane County Jail."

Joliet, Ill., June 12.—Herman Coppes, the fourteen year old murder of Mrs. Manny Sleep and her two babies arrived at the penitentiary and was given his first shave and first pair of long trousers. He appeared unconcerned and said to the officials:

"I am glad to get here. This looks more interesting than the Kane county jail."

He was placed in solitary confinement to day on bread and water. To just what occupation he will be assigned has not been determined.

He is the youngest life prisoner who has ever entered the state prison.

FURTHER STEPS TO ELIMINATE VICE.

Chicago, Ill., June 12.—The committee of fifteen which a year ago induced John E. W. W. Wayman, then state's attorney to close the red light district here took action to day further to eliminate vice from this city.

Letters were addressed to Mayor Harrison, Chief of Police McWeeny and Health Commissioner George B. Young. The letters contained a list of places, reputed to be disorderly, a list of dive-keepers and a list of the owners of property aleged to be used for immoral purposes. The letters declared that unless the officials took steps to close the buildings and prosecute the owners, the members of the committee would take action.

COMMITTEE CLEARS WAY FOR TARIFF BILL

Members of Body Believe Measure Will Get Before Senate Next Week

TO END FILIBUSTER.

May Call Democratic Members from West Virginia Probe to Participate In Caucus

TWO SCHEDULES APPROVED

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The Democratic steering committee of the senate was called into action late today to clear the way in that body for the tariff revision bill. As a result of the meeting and of the reports received from the finance committee, members of the "steering committee" said tonight they believed the tariff bill would get back into the senate before the end of next week.

Party Managers Confer.

Senator Kern called the party managers together after reports had become general that the Democratic tariff caucus would have to be postponed until the senate's West Virginia coal strike investigation had been completed. It was determined to attempt to obtain an agreement between the senate and house on the sundry civil bill now in dispute; to end Senator Jones' single handed filibuster which has delayed senate business for over a week and to remove all other obstacles to early action on the tariff.

"The steering committee' was informed by Senator Thomas who is also a member of the finance committee that the tariff bill could be completed and returned to the senate next week.

Several other members of the finance committee, however, expressed doubt tonight as to the probability of this being accomplished.

May Call Probers Back.

Recommendations were made early in the day by several Democrats prominently identified with the administration forces that the senate caucus be deferred until Senators Swanson and Martins had returned from their work with the investigating committee in West Virginia. The narrow margin by which the administration forces control the senate in support of the president's wool and sugar program makes it necessary, in their opinion, to have all Democrats present at the caucus and that the Democratic members of the committee will be called back from West Virginia to participate in the caucus. It is proposed that the caucus shall be a binding one, pledging every senator to vote for the bill as approved.

Free sugar in three years and free wool, the more troublesome schedules of the tariff confronting the party advanced another stage today without suffering alteration when the Democratic members of the finance committee approved them as they passed the house. These schedules are now up to the Democratic caucus.

Williams Startles Members.

John Sharp Williams, chairman of the sub-committee in charge of the administrative features of the Underwood bill, startled majority members of the finance committee today when he proposed that a commission be appointed to study the entire question of tariff administration and that meanwhile the administrative provisions of the Payne-Aldrich law be permitted to stand in the new Democratic bill.

The suggestion did not meet with approval of the committee members and Senator Williams and his colleagues on the sub-committee Senators Shively and Gore were sent back to keep on their work of revising the administrative provisions of the Underwood bill.

RYAN CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

Peoria, Ill., June 12.—Wiliam F. Ryan of Chicago was elected state chief ranger of the Illinois Catholic Order of Forresters for the fourth consecutive tem to day. Ryan was elected ove Thomas F. McIntyre, also of Chicago.

Other officers elected included Peter Reinhard, who was unanimously re-elected state vice-chief ranger without opposition; Nicholas V. Fischer of Chicago, who was unanimously re-elected state secretary and James Burke of Chicago who was re-elected state treasurer over William Armanecht, also of Chicago. All of the officers were elected for a term of two ears.

PLEASED WITH BILL'S PASSED.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 12.—Col. Jerome A. Watrous, retired army officer and leading spirit in the Wisconsin woman suffrage cause to day wired thanks to Governor Dunne of Illinois in behalf of Wisconsin supporters of woman suffrage as follows:

"One hundred fifty thousand voters and quarter million Wisconsin women who expect to vote, thank your state for giving women right to vote. All join in singing 'Illinois', Lincoln's appeal heard after seventy years."

REFUSES TO SUBMIT RECORDS OF TRIALS

GOVERNOR HATFIELD EXPLAINS POSITION IN LETTER

Says Findings of Military Committee Had Never Been Approved and He Wished to Keep Records For Use in Seeking Indictments in Civil Courts.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 12.—Governor Hatfield of West Virginia tonight declined to submit to the senate mine investigation committee the records of the trals before the military committee which took charge of the strike district of the state during the trouble this spring.

In a letter to the committee the governor said that the findings of the committee in these cases had never been approved, the men had been released and he desired to keep the records for use in seeking indictments in the civil courts.

Governor Hatfield's Letter.

Governor Hatfield's letter read in part:

"A commission was in existence when I came into office and about eighty prisoners were in jail. I wanted peace and harmony as the situation seemed threatening.

"I had independent evidence in the nature of voluntary confessions in the case of some. But for reasons of prudence, I ordered the discharge of all. My object was to restore law and order.

"It would be prejudicial, to the public peace to make the records you want public at this time. I want to keep them so that when it can be brought about without danger of inflaming public opinion I can present them to the civil courts and secure indictments and trials of those accused by this evidence."

The committee will probably coincide with the views of the governor and make no further efforts to secure the records of these trials.

Raises Martial Law.

Governor Hatfield tonight issued a proclamation raising martial law in the strike district and the last few soldiers left in the field were recalled.

Judge Advocate General George S. Wallace, who was the legal authority of the military commissions in the strike zone, defended the conduct of the commission under military law before the committee.

"We had the right to sentence an offender to death," he said. "My contention is that in the theater of war the commander-in-chief of the forces makes the law. The governor when he declared martial law, recognized that the constitution had been suspended on Paint and Cabin Creeks."

Under cross-examination, Judge Wallace said that he had been paid a $5,000 fee for defending the military committee case taken to the supreme court of appeals of the state.

Warden Martin L. Brown of the state penitentiary testified that military prisoners were treated the same as civil court prisoners.

Committee Visits Camps.

Among the miners cabins in the West Virginia mountains the United States senate sub-committee today sought information about the strike which has disrupted the state for more than a year. All day long a special train carrying the senators visited the mining camps in Paint Creek and Cabin Creek. Groups of mountain men and women with children about them were startled by the sudden appearance of five senators, lawyers, mine operators and stenographers at the doors of their shanties.

As a method of securing definite testimony the all-day trip proved unproductive but the company was enabled to secure a first hand view of the conditions in the field.

"Today's trip was valuable," said Senator Swanson, chairman of the senate sub-committee tonight, "because it gave us a bird's eye view of the situation and enabled us to fix the geographical outline of the country in our minds."

WOMAN CONFESSES TO MURDERING TWO

Mrs. Arthur Kellar Admits Slaying Husband and Daughter Last Tuesday

ENDS CORONER'S INQUEST

Claims She Was Impelled By a Force She Could Not Resist and Committed Crime

SEEMED UNDER STRAIN

HARRISONVILLE, Mo., June 12.—Mrs. Arthur Kellar tonight confessed that she killed her husband, a railroad laborer, and their daughter Margaret, last Tuesday. Kellar and the girl were slain with an axe as they lay asleep in their beds.

Woman Taken to Jail.

The confession, which was signed by Mrs. Kellar, brought to a quick termination the coroner's inquest that had been in session two days in an attempt to place the responsibility for the murder. The woman was taken to jail.

"God knows I would not have killed them had I known what I was doing," Mr. Kellar said in her confession. She declared she had frequently been irresponsible for her acts since she received a blow on the head two years ago.

In her confession Mrs. Kellar relates that when she went to bed Monday night she was feeling badly and lay down with her clothes on. Later she awoke and impelled by a force she could not resist, she says, she got the axe and returning to the room where her husband and Margaret were asleep in the same bed, struck them blow upon blow. Only after the deed was done did she realize what she was doing, she declared.

Bathed Girl's Wounds.

After she realized what had happened, Mrs. Kellar says she went to the kitchen, lighted the lantern and returned with water with which she bathed Margaret's wounds. Then she picked up the axe and broke a piece off her own bed that she might make it appear that she also had been attacked. With this done she went to the neighbors and told the story of the mysterious man who had fled as she awakened after he had struck at her with an axe but failed to hit her and had struck the bed instead.

While testifying today before she confessed, Mrs. Kellar broke down and wept several times. Apparently she became involved in her replies as if she were under mental strain.

The confession was made through the efforts of a detective who spent much time questioning Mrs. Kellar and her 5-year-old son, George. The boy was asleep in another room in the house at the time the crime was committed.

CRATER LAKE'S HUGE RIM.

All That Is Left of a Once Mighty Volcano In Oregon.

The highest mountain in Oregon is Mount Hood, 11,225 feet above sea level. Compared with Mount Whitney, to the south in California, and Mount Rainier, to the north in Washington, each rising well above 14,000 feet, Mount Hood does not appear as a skyscraper.

However, according to the geologists of the United States geological survey and other authorities, Oregon had at one time, probably before the dawn of life upon the earth, a great volcano which towered as far above Mount Hood as does Mount Rainier, possibly even several thousand feet higher. This was the great Mount Mazama. But thousands of years ago this mountain disappeared into the bowels of the earth, and all that is left today is the huge rim around Crater lake.

Crater lake is the caldera of this extinct and collapsed volcano and is nearly six miles in diameter. The inside walls of the rim of the ancient mountain are in places nearly 4,000 feet high and almost perpendicular. The lake itself is in places 2,000 feet deep, and parts of the wall rise above its waters another 2,000 feet. A restoration of the mountain in fancy, using as a basis the angles of the lower slopes, which still remain, shows that the apex could not have been far from 15,000 feet in height, so that Mount Mazama was one of the most lofty and majestic peaks in the United States.

THE RED SQUIRREL.

He Is a True American, With All the National Traits.

If the red squirrels do not have an actual game of tag they have something so near it that I cannot tell the difference, writes John Burroughs in Harper's Magazine. Just now I see one in hot pursuit of another on the stone wall. Both are apparently going at the top of their speed. They make a red streak over the dark gray stones. When the pursuer seems to overtake the pursued and becomes "it" the race is reversed, and away they go to the back track with the same fleetness of the hunter and the hunted until things are reversed again. I have seen them engaged in the same game in tree tops, each one having his innings by turn.

The gray squirrel comes and goes, but the red squirrel we have always with us. He will live where the gray will starve. He is a true American. He has nearly all the national traits—neryous energy, quickness, resourcefulness, pertness, not to say impudence and conceit. He is not altogether lovely or blameless. He makes war on the chipmunk. He is a robber of birds' nests and is destructive of the orchard fruits. Nearly every man's hand is against him, yet he thrives, and long may he continue to do so!

Catching the Eye.

The manager of one of Philadelphia's largest department stores is my authority for this business maxim: "You've got to get the people's eyes before you can reach their money." He illustrated his meaning by telling me of a personal experience in his own great establishment. A certain commodity of standard make and fashion had piled two counters for some weeks without moving. The owner of the store himself was finally attracted to this dead weight merchandise. At once he diagnosed the trouble.

"Put those goods," ordered he, "upon a special counter four feet nearer the aisle than they are now." This was done, and in less than a day the entire lot of goods had been sold. "All that was needed," said my informant, "was to get the eye of the women. They didn't hesitate to give us their money." —Philadelphia Ledger.

His Jag.

While a young American was on a trip abroad he visited the country home of a friend, and among the other guests was a prominent Englishman. During their visit he and the Englishman became good friends. One day the American's curiosity was aroused as he heard his friend refer to an umbrella repeatedly as a "jag."

Upon inquiry the Englishman remarked:

"Why, that is an American word. I picked it up when I was in New York last winter. I am positive that I have the correct meaning of the word, because the boys often remarked when they saw James coming down the street when it was raining hard, 'Here he comes, carrying a large jag.'"—Harper's Magazine.

A Prerogative of the Pulpit.

Dr. Bacon, a New England clergyman of long ago, was reproached by a friend with some pronunciation which was not "according to Webster." Webster lived in his parish, and the doughty old divine was not disposed to be snubbed with the dictionary. "What right has Webster to dictate my pronunciation?" he demanded haughtily. "He is one of my parishioners and ought to get his pronunciation from me and not I from him."

The Amateur Farmer.

"Yes," said the dealer; "I have cows to sell. What kind of a cow do you want?"

"Oh, I don't know," said the amateur. "I guess one with four legs and a couple of horns will do."—Harper's Weekly.

Dazed Him.

ALASKA WANTS SCHOOL BOARD AND SUPERINTENDENTS

A territorial board of education and two superintendents of schools are asked for by the Alaska legislature in a memorial just transmitted to congress. The petition recites that although Alaska now has a white population of about 40,000 with 3,000 children attending 42 white public schools, "there is as yet no territorial board of education, examining board, or superintendents to govern such schools."

The legislature asks that the board of education be made up of the governor, secretary, and treasurer of the territory and that it appoint the two superintendents of schools. The board is to have power to grant Territorial "educational diplomas", life diplomas" and "first grade certificates" to properly qualified teachers. It is specified, however, that normal school diplomas or state certificates from any of the states in the union shall be accepted as satisfactory evidence of fitness to teach in the Alaskan schools.

Would-be teachers in Alaska are to be examined in much the same subjects as teacher in the various states—algebra, geography, history, etc; but particular stress is to be laid upon hygiene, "with special reference to the nature and effects of alcoholic drinks and other narcotics and stimulants upon the human system."

The action sought by the Alaska legislature from congress is for the white schools alone. The native schools in the territory are directly under control of the national government, through the Bureau of Education.

MR. DRURY'S CATTLE TOOK TOP PRICE IN CHICAGO MARKET

Commission Men Now Take Optimistic Views and Predict Further Advances.

As mentioned in the Journal yesterday a load of cattle belonging to F. E. Drury of Orleans sold in Chicago for nine cents a pound, indicating the improved condition of the cattle market. The cattle were sold by Alexander, Ward & Conover and in their market letter yesterday the firm called attention to this sale and talk about general market conditions. The letter says:

"We got back to the $9.00 mark today in the sale of a load of grade Hereford branded westerns, averaging 1464 pounds, belonging to Frank Drury of Orleans, Ill. A week ago today we sold a cut of the same cattle for $8.60, averaging 1488 pounds. We also made the next highest sale on heavy cattle, selling two loads of Illinois branded westerns, fed on grass, at $8.90, averaging 1561 pounds. Top on yearlings 9c, averaging 977 pounds. Estimated receipts 14,000, the market active and 10c higher on all desirable grades.

"Our other sales included 43 branded westerns, averaging 1098 pounds, at $8.60; 64 natives, 1224 pounds, $8.60; 19, 1188 pounds, $8.60; 25, 1302 pounds, $8.60; 45 grade Hereford branded western yearlings, 949 pounds, $8.50; 21 yearling steers and heifers, 756 pounds, $8.50.

"We are very optimistic over the future. We look for a still further advance if the cattle that are ready are properly distributed along in the next 30 days. After that we can see nothing to fear as from the best information we can gather the supply in the country is not up to that of other years. Butcher stuff is also showing strength and best grades of cows and heifers scored a 10c advance today. Stockers and feeders were in sympathy with fat cattle and sold about a dime higher.

Hogs.

"Today's hog run was lighter than expected, only 25,000 and the market was red hot from the start. Top was $8.90 paid by a shipper for a load of choice light hogs, but bulk of the prime hogs, most all weights sold at $8.80 and $8.85. Packers made a weak effort to break prices but finally bought them all up, and the close was about as good as any time. We believe in good hog prices right along."

The style lines are more pronounced in the clothing sold by Garland & Co.

LOVING THE OTHER FELLOW

That the address delivered to Dr. Allan A. Tanner at the commenceemnt exercises of Illinois College made a deep impression is attested by the fact that the Alumni Association by a unaimous vote instructed the officers of the association to have the address printed in pamphlet form and a copy sent to each member.

In these days of social unrest, in these times of almost innumerable reforms, it is indeed worth while when men of Dr. Tanner's caliber, without the usual forms of preachment or reproof point out, that after all real movements for betterment must come from the hearts of men. As a college student Allan A. Tanner had a sweet and kindly spirit, individual in its type, wholly lovable and which characterized him in his class room, on the campus, in his home, wherever and whenever one met him. Perhaps the young student was not entitled to any special praise because of this spirit, for it was not a matter of cultivation. It was just the welling up of kindly feeling for everybody from a kindly heart.

A few years later it was not a matter of surprise to see Allan Tanner impressed with needs and yearnings of his fellow men in the common walks of life, out among them, living among them, studying social conditions as they really exist. He was no common student of men and conditions for he studied men by helping them, cheering them, entering into their joys and sorrows and trying to see that the joys outnumbered the sorrows. So through that period and in the years since, out of the ministry and in the ministry he has gone on, with the "upward look" helping men by loving men. He left college twenty-five years ago and during that quarter of a century he has caught the vision of what men really are, of what they can be, of what the world needs. Twenty-five years, as one grows older seem but a little span of time, but for Allan A. Tanner they have been years rich in experience, years in which he has grown in wisdom and in strength and thus he was able to say recently:

"The fatherhood of God is a delusion without human brotherhood. Communion with Christ is impossible except as we break our bodies and shed our blood for others in memory of Him. If you leave the personal and turn toward science you find the same law. Harmony with the creative purposes or the fulfillment of one's destiny can be had only through sacrifice for others. The man who wishes to bring the forces of the religious instinct to bear upon social progress has the resistless logic of the situation."

NEW DUTIES FOR ILLINOIS WOMEN

The Illinois legislature has passed the Magill equal suffrage bill giving to women the right to vote for presidential electors, for mayors, aldermen and other municipal officers not governed by the state constitution. Governor Dunne has declared that he will sign the bill unless some defects are noted in it which will make it almost certain to be declared unconstitutional. Attorney General Lucey yesterday gave it as his opinion that the bill is constitutional and the governor's signature will therefore no doubt be affixed. Thus new duties will come to the women of Illinois. The matter of municipal government will now be largely in their hands for it is likely that in most localities that women, even if they do not constitute a majority will hold the balance of power. From the viewpoint of reason it seems proper that women should have something to say about the government of the cities where they live for as men have been said to constitute the state so may homes be said to constitute the cities. Good government will mean better homes and good homes will mean better government.

When one considers that women are taxed just as male property holders are, that they are amenable to the laws of the land, that they have intelligence equal or superior to men there does not seem to be much ground for argument against woman suffrage from a standpoint of right. There are however a great many women who do not want to vote and who are inclined to shrink from the responsibility which the ballot will give them. It will now become the duty of the women who have sought the ballot to imbue their sisters with a like spirit. The right to vote brings with it the duty of voting and so good government is "up to the women." Upon them will depend the success or failure of the suffrage law in its operation.

GOVERNMENT OPPOSES GIVING RAILROAD ANY FURTHER TIME

Union Pacific Must Dispose of Its Southern Pacific Holdings By July 1st.

St. Paul, Minn., June 12.—Attorney General McReynolds served notice to day on Union Pacific railroad attorneys that the government was opposed to giving the railroad any further extension of time to dispose of its holdings of Southern Pacific stock as ordered by the supreme court.

"The supreme court has ordered the Union Pacific to relinquish its Southern Pacific stock by July 1st", said Attorney General McReynolds in his statement. "That time practically has arrived and the Union Pacific has not complied with the mandate. If loss is incured by the immediate sale of stock it will be as the result of wrongful action on the part of the railroad."

Mr. McReynolds declared that he could see no objection to the proposed exchange by the railroad of $38,000,000 worth of its Southern Pacific stock (a little less than one third of its total holdings) for Baltimore & Ohio stock held by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Permission to make this exchange was sought by the railroad in a supplemental plan of dissolution filed to day.

In his statement Mr. McReynolds declared that he had been hopeful that the interests woul arange an exchange of stock whereby the Union Pacific would acquire the Central Pacific which runs from Ogden to Sacremento in return to its Southern Pacific stock. Failure to negotiate such a deal, he said, left the government with no alternative but to institute an expensive litigation against the Southern Pacific to compel it to relinquish its control of the Southern Pacific.

First vice-president—Chief A. R. Sherwood, Ottawa, Canada.

Secretary-treasurer — Harvey O. Carr, Grand Rapids.

No Longer Do Women Fear The Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a joy and comfort to know that those much-talked-of pains and other distresses that are said to precede child-bearing may easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well-known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

This is a most grateful, penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain, and thus not only banish all tendency to nervous twitching spells, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, discomfort, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the babe.

The occasion is therefore one of unbounded, joyful anticipation, and too much stress can not be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy, pre-natal disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generation to come.

Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers, thousands of whom have used and recommend it. You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 130 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most instructive book on this greatest of all subjects, motherhood.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

DR. CHAS. JOHNSON'S LECTURE.

It is fitting that the lecture to be given next Saturday evening at Grace church by Mr. Johnson of Urbana on "The Making of a Flag" should occur on Flag day.

This will be a treat to the citizens of Jacksonville. Of course the old soldiers will be there, our school children and every one who wishes to broaden their knowledge and at the same time be entertained.

The profits from this lecture will go to a worthy cause. The proceeds will go to the local Anti-Tuberculosis society. Tickets are 25c and 10c.

The red cross silk banner will be presented after the lecture to the Sunday school who has the greatest sale of tickets. This banner is donated by Hillerby and Johnson, Hackett and Guthrie.

Here is an opinion in regard to Dr. Johnson's lecture:

"Dr. W. J. Newcomb, of the Illinois State Medical society, speaks his mind in these words:

"I had the pleasure of listening to Dr. Johnson's lecture on the Evolution of the American Flag and regard it a real object lesson in patriotism. It is moreover, an interesting and instructive explanation of the growth and development of our national emblem from the many colonial ensigns in early use. The study of the flag is an edulational feature that should not be overlooked by those interested in our national history and development and this to my surprise contains much that is interesting in a literary way."

PRINTERS CONGRESS.

A printer's cost congress is to be held at the Leland hotel in Springfield for two days beginning this morning. This congress is a part of a general movement, country wide in its extent which has in view the securing of better business practices among the printers. The character of the job printing business is such that a great many members of the class figure on a job without really knowing accurately what the cost basis is. It can be truthfully said that no two jobs of printing are exactly alike. In the stock used and the style of composition followed are the same then there is likely to be a difference in the speed of the workmen who sets the job or who do the press work. It is to study questions relative to the costs of producing job work that this congress has been called. Among the delegates who will attend from Jacksonville will be W. D. Doying, I. M. Bune, W. Macey Brents, the Roach Bros., and Wallace Gibbs.

LETTER FROM Y. M. C. A. CAMP AT LAKE MATANZAS.

Notes of Wednesday.

The camp was astir bright and early. Lizzie Buzza had to leave for Havana to catch a train for Kewanee, where he begins his summer work. Sis Walker and Mulligan Recker accompanied him to Havana. We were all sorry to see him leave us, but were glad to have ham as long as he could stay.

We expected visitors and made a few special preparations, but none came and we were disappointed again,

The morning was spent in adventures of all sorts. Some took boat trips and some went souvenir hunting. Upp De Graff and Peruna Brew succeeded in capturing eight small turtles. Sis Walker is peeling like a snake. His back looks like some one had used a fish scaler on him. Whitlock's nose looks like a rose in full bloom. All the honors went to Chicken Adams when he ate three dishes of pudding for dinner. He ought to get fat—nicht wahr?

Nearly everybody went fishing in the afternoon, as the wind had abated and the water was calm once more. Quite a few were caught and they soon graced the supper table.

Whitlock ate so much rice pudding for supper that he was put on the eligibility list for the fat men's club.

The feature performance came in the evening, when four of the fellows from upstairs planned to come down to the kitchen and get away with the remains of a rice pudding. They were endeavoring to execute the plan when our old watch dog, Night Owl Recker, slipped up behind them and shouted "Burglars in the house," and at the same time shot a blank cartridge out of the window and scared the would-be burglars so bad that the steps creaked and groaned as they broke all speed records getting back up stairs.

The rice pudding was safe, but the aforementioned four fellows were sentenced to the slaparetus for malicious trespass.

Practical discussions will engage the attention of the association for two days. The officers in charge of the convention are President Winkjer, dairy and food commissioner of Minnesota; Vice President James H. Wallis, dairy and food commissioner of Idaho, and Secretary G. L. Martin, of the North Dakota agricultural college.

RAIL HEADS ASK MORE FOR FREIGHT

Boston, Mass., June 12.—At the invitation of the Boston Chamber of Commerce the presidents of three of the largest railroad systems of the east came to Boston today to present to New England shippers arguments in support of their plan for a slight general advance in freight rates. The three presidents were W. C. Brown of the New York Central, Samuel Rea of the Pennsylvania and Daniel Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio. It is the intention of the railroads to ask the interstate commerce commission for authority to make a general 5 per cent raise in freight rates in the territory east of the Mississippi river and north of the Baltimore & Ohio road. Before making the request to the commission the railroad executives hope to convince the shippers that the increased revenue is essential to the maintenance and prosperity of the roads.

CIRCUIT COURT NEWS.

In the circuit court Thursday Judge Thompson denied the motion for a new trial entered in behalf of Caleb Brice and Leslie Hunter who were recently convicted on the charge of assault to commit robbery. The judge sentenced them to Chester penitentiary to remain until discharged according to law. Sheriff Rogers will probably take them to the penitentiary today.

In the garnishment proceedings of C. N. Seymour for the use of T. C. Brown vs. Wm. Rees, administrator of the estate of W. G. Seymour, deceased, the court found for the plaintiff and declared that at the time of garnishment the defendant had on hand $247.20 in funds. The cause was certified to the county court for trial.

In the mandamus proceedings directed against L. H. Clampit to show cause why he should be serving as a member of the board of education, Attorneys Tilton and Hairgrove entered a motion for a judgment on the pleas. As Mr. Worthington, one of the attorneys for Dr. Clampit is out of the city the court continued the matter until Saturday.

AMERICAN DELEGATES SAIL FOR ZURICH

Sunday School Workers Are On the Way to World's Convention.

Boston, Mass., June 12.—Hundreds of Sunday school workers thronged the White Star line docks today and gave an enthusiastic "bon voyage" to the steamship Canopic as she steamed away for Europe carrying the main body of the American delegates to the world's Sunday school convention which is to be held next month in Zurich, Switzerland. Four hundred delegates sailed on the Canopic, which was specially chartered for the trip. Nearly all of the states and several of the Canadian provinces were represented in the party.

The Canopic party, though it is the largest single party of American delegates and includes nearly all of the Sunday school association officials, represents only a comparatively small part of the whole army of American delegates who will attend the Zurich convention. Other parties representing the United States are scheduled to sail later in the month from New York, Philadelphia and Boston, while two large parties of Canadian delegates are to depart from Montreal, the first sailing next Saturday and the second on Saturday week. It is estimated that the total number of Americans at the convention will be not less than two thousand.

The convention at Zurich will be the seventh great gathering of its kind that has been held under the auspices of the World's Sunday School association. Marion Lawrence of Toledo, O., who is the general secretary of the world's association, states that all indications point to a larger attendance than at any of the previous conventions. Every country of Europe has promised a large representation.

The convention will have its formal opening on July 8. The program will have for its general theme: "The Sunday School and the Great Commission," and for eight days Sunday school specialists from all parts of the world will give their thought to the consideration of the problems of "The Sunday School Conquest of the World."

One of the strong features of the convention will be the Sunday school roll call of nations, with five-minute responses from representatives of forty countries. A choir of 300 voices under the leadership of Professor A. J. Bucher of Cincinnati will be another feature. For the convention concert the Tonhalle Zurich Symphony orchestra of forty-one pieces, one of the finest in all Europe will contribute to the program.

Americans who will appear on the program as speakers include Bishops Vincent, Neulsen and Hartzell, H. J. Heinz of Pittsburgh, Dr. H. M. Hamill of Nashville, Frank L. Brown of Brooklyn, Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh of Philadelphia, Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia and E. K. Warren of Three Oaks, Mich.

WHERE OATS FAIL.

Drouth Following Delayed Oats Seeding Means Practical Failure—Soy Beans Will Yield Profitable Crop of Grain or Forage on This Land.

Thousands of acres of land that has been sown to oats in central and southern Illinois will produce very little this season on account of the drouth following a wet spring and a delayed seeding, unless the farmer has forethought, the time and facilities for preparing the land and planting it to soy beans.

Soy beans may be planted safely at any time before (or even after) the middle of June and will mature seed; they will yield a profitable crop of grain or forage on land where the oats give promise of failure.

For hay, the following varieties are recommended: Monmouth yellow, Hollybrook, Austin, Wilson and Peking. For grain, the Peking, Sable, and Kingston are the best yielders in the order named. Well cured soy beans for seed have been selling at $2.50 per bushel, and the seller furnishes soil for inoculation.

Seeding.

For grain, seed with the drill, using the middle and two end hoes of the 9-hoe drill and the 2nd, and 6th of the 8-hoe drill; and give three shallow cultivations.

For hay, broadcast at the rate of from 70 to 90 pounds per acre and harrow in; or seed 40 to 50 pounds per acre through all the hose of the drill; or half as much through every other hose—the quantity depends upon the size of the seed. Seed should not be planted too deep; an inch and a quarter is the greatest depth that is safe, and three-quarters to one inch is usually deep enough, except in sand.

Inoculation is very important and the materials as well as instructions may be obtained where the seed is purchased.

Experiment station tests show that soy bean straw produces milk more cheaply than corn stover; that an acre of soy beans made nearly three times as much meat as an acre of corn fed to steers; that corn fed pork cost $7.63 against $2.74 per 100 gain for soy beans; that soy bean hay equals alfalfa for milk production, is more valuable than tankage for making pork and than oats for lambs—H. A. McKeene, Secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute.

FOOCHOW NOT OFTEN VISITED BY TOURISTS

CITY IS OUT MAIN TRAVELED ROAD.

Hotels Are All Conducted by Natives, Affording Poor Accommodations For Caucasions—City Has Many Attractions.

(By S. W. Nichols).
Foochow, China.

Dear Journal:

This is a busy city of some half million souls with, probably as many more scattered around the suburbs and living in house boats along the river. It is inland, as I have already explained, and out of the main line of travel and consequently not much sought by pilgrims around the world. There is not in it a hotel of any sort conducted by others than natives, who have poor accommodations for a Caucasian. On the other hand it has many attractions and notably is the fact that its streets are in better condition than those of Canton, while compared with Amoy it is well nigh a paradise. Much might be said regarding its romantic situation and pleasant prospects in many ways, while at the same time the heart is saddened by the lack of the benefits of Christianity in many ways.

Not long ago a man thought his wife wasn't working hard enough to suit him and he gave her a whipping, but that didn't cure her, so he tied her up and gave her another. That failing to suit her she ran away, but he caught her and punished her still more severely. Again she ran away and he tied her up and gave her another hard beating and again she managed to get away and he caught her and put her in irons and pounded her well. By some means she managed to escape and that time was aided by others and eluded her husband for some time, but by bribery he managed to get on her track and that time he sold her to a man a long distance away, put her in a closed sedan chair and sent her off and pocketed the 90 Mexican dollars he received from a man who had not seen her.

There is no law to punish such doings and the only time he was at all alarmed was when the poor woman's brothers threatened to prosecute him for killing his wife, while she was in hiding the longest time, and that made him get about and find her. Even yet in the interior girl babies are put out of the way in order to make one less mouth to feed, though that horried custom is becoming less each year. Blind and deformed persons are often put out of the way when it is hard to supply them with food, and great heartlessness is manifested in this respect and to overcome it is one of the efforts of the missionaries who are at work in this vicinity. Much time will be necessary to overcome these practices and it is only the teachings of true Christianity that will be the leaven which will permeate the great body and make it what it should be. A degree of liberty and advancement has already been secured and friends of the great nation hope for the best.

Mission Plants.

Foochow is well equipped in mission plants, as far as three denominations can supply them. The Methodist Episcopal is the strongest, having a college with 360 boys and young men and a girls' college with some 260 students. Then comes the Congregational or American Board with a college for young men, with 304 in the lololllccshownijmdoesioR 304 in the college proper and preparatory department, and a girls' college with 100 students. The Angelican or Church of England with a college and 250 students and a girls' school and 200 students. All of them had to refuse admission to a good many applicants at the beginning of the school year, as their space and accommodations were all occupied.

These denominations have done the best they could, though far more means could well be used were it possible to secure it. In connection with the educational work are churches, Sunday schools, young people's societies and the usual machinery of educational and religious work. They are equipped with leaders and some instructors from home and helped out by a good many native teachers and professors. The present is indeed an all important period in the life of the nation. As President Beard of the Congregational college said a short time ago, such enterprises could not get a hearing except at the cost of persecution and ostracism but now the ear of the people is open and ready to receive instruction and if it is not supplied by the right source will come from the wrong and sad will be the result.

The importance of these mission schools can hardly be realized. Missionaries can not go among the people in suitable numbers to accomplish much, nor are they to the country born, but the students who graduate from the schools and embrace the Christian religion are a great force, who go among their own people and carry the message along with intelligence and better ways in all resepts and they are sought for in governmental and other important positions and exert a mighty influence. The general government recently requested the Christian churches in all the country to unite in a day of prayer for China and this request was complied with by the churches.

Another happy feature of the work is a union theological seminary, which is the combined enterprise of the three denominations mentioned as having plants here. All are grandly uniting in the common cause, burying common differences and training young men for lives of usefulness. There are now some sixty students and all are splendid young men, preparing themselves for a work which will have lasting results.

Visit to Some Temples.

In the compound resides Dr. L. Hodous, one of the missionaries, with his lovely family, and he is an authority on all that pertains to this part of the world. One morning he piloted us through some of the temples in the vicinity and the experience was interesting. The temples are like great sheds, largely open on the sides and containing all sorts of arrangements for the worship of the idols within. The first one we visited was a thousand years old and the entrance was guarded by four huge and hideous images representing something akin to soldiers. The first shrine was presided over by a huge image of the laughing Buddha and back of it was another. Both were profusely gilt and elegant and expensive, but grotesque in design. In front of the image was the altar and place for burning incense, of which a great amount is consumed every day and forms a large item in the traffic of the petted merchants. Idol paper is another article sold in great quantities and is burned in front of the shrines. It is often gilded with an imitation of silver, which is calculated to deceive the gods and make them think they are getting an offering of the real metal.

There are in this temple apartments for some thirty monks and they, as well as all others, we met, and they have been many, have little about them in either dress or looks to distinguish them from ordinary mortals. They seemed much pleased with our visit and treated us most politely; brought us fragrant tea and showed all courtesy. I tried to drink some of the beverage and found it as palatable as tea could be to me, but it was an undesirable dose. The dining hall of the temple and monastery is plain and consists of board tables and trestles for seats. The food is about the same as enjoyed by the average native in good circumstances.

Beyond this apartment was another which might perhaps be termed the sanctum sanctorum. In front of the image and shrine were many long streamers and as they were covered with prayers it is thought that waving in the wind they will accomplish some good. Incense was burning here in good quantities and at the side were three shrines of smaller dimensions. Up a high hill we went to still another temple and there we found more images and worshipers bowing before the huge, ugly thing. The goddess of mercy was here behind a shrine and was object of much adoration. Still higher we went to a Taorist temple where were a lot of gaudy ornaments and a lot of incense burning, making air fragrant with the odor. This god is consulted regarding illness, journeys and the like. While we were there three fine looking young men entered and began their worship. They lighted candles and put them before the god and then placed burning incense beside the candles.

Evidently they had come to see about the illness of a member of their family, as they bowed and seemed to pray a short time and then took the cup inways in such a place. It is of wood, about eight inches deep and three in diameter and has in it a lot of sticks on end and about six inches long. The young men shook the cup till one of the sticks fell out and they took it up eagerly and I suppose they thought from the inscription upon it they had discovered the malady which the friend was suffering and the remedy was probably a dried toad of a shrunken fish or something equally absurd. Then they took the two sticks, flat on one side and oval on the other, and tossed them into the air to see how they would fall, as that would determine the outcome of the disease. An old man was worshiping beside them and he bowed and hit the stone pavement with his head till we could hear him some distance away. It is needless to comment on the sadness with which one sees such forms of idolatry and reflects that so great a fraction of the human race is thus deluded.

In another part of the building was the goddess of children and there were 36 porcelain images of little folks arranged about the room and here women go when in trouble regarding their little folks or when they have none in their homes. Another monstrosity in gilt was a god of the eve and he was supposed to have a good influence over those troubled with defective vision. In a space between the shrines was a stage, on which sundry performances are seen at times and all about were the usual accessories of such a place, which combined worship with acting by the priests and those connected with them in the temple.

A Missionary Hospital.

A part of all missionary plants in this city and elsewhere as far as possible is a hospital for the treatment of the sick and afflicted and the work they do is well nigh incredible. The physician and surgeon in charge is Dr. M. K. Kinnear, who has been in the work 24 years and his noble wife, who is a trained nurse and has labored for others in the field 25 years. They are the parents of five children, ranging in age from 14 upward; already three are in the states to remain and two fine boys will soon have to follow to be educated, wringing the heart of the parents, who have to part from that which is dearest in the world, in order that they may carry on the work in which they are engaged. One son is in the navy, a gifted daughter is attending Oberlin university, a son is in Louisiana and the parents are here doing untold good.

They treat some 25,000 cases a year and are happy in the work. I quote a little from the records of the hospital. A wealthy man brought in a girl to be examined and it transpired that he had bought the child for $75 and wanted to see if he had been cheated in his bargain. A woman brought to the doctor a child eight years old and wanted her examined to see if she was worth the $25 which had been paid. This sort of slavery is too common to excite notice. A remarkable case was that of an infant girl with harelip and cleft palate. It was the first case of the kind the doctor ever had treated, as it is the custom at once to put out of the way a girl baby with any sort of a deformity which injures the looks or makes the child less valuable for work. A woman seemed to thing vaccination a good thing and brought two children to be thus treated. One had about his neck a dog bone which the mother had put there as a good preventive of disease. A man whose feet had become diseased had to suffer the amputation of both half way to the ankles, yet he recovered all right and was able to get about. A great many cases long neglected are brought to the doctor when all else fails and even then he is able to accomplish much. A host of remarkable operations could be described if there were space for the purpose. All manner of troubles are treated and the cures accomplished, often under discouraging circumstances, is cause for wonder. The hospital is fairly well equipped and can accommodate a few patients and it is filled all the time.

The means used by native doctors are varied and make one wonder that all do not die that are ill. In some cases they beat gongs to scare away the disease; sometimes they insert hot needles in the patient's body to get rid of the trouble, while all sorts of remedies are prescribed. A native physician who had wrought some cures with the help of imagination and natural causes often prescribed the following.

Powdered snakes, 2 parts.
Wasps and their nests, 1 part.
Centipides, 6 quarts.
Scorpions, 4 parts.
Toads, 20 parts.

Grind thoroughly, mix with honey, make into pills and take four times a day and great results will follow. The good work done by the hospital is coming more and more to be appreciated, but still there are many millions who are not reached by such means at all. On the other hand, one morning when I saw two Buddhist priests waiting for treatment and the famalies of prominent officials are brought to the foreign doctor, for the people well know the worthlessness of native treatment when once they open their eyes and investigate.

Dr. Kinnear also treats diseases of the eye and ear with great success, and I saw a man from whose optics a cataract had been removed with success. Think of treating 25,000 patients in a year. They came to him from all parts as they hear of his success and he is like his Master, a physician of the soul as well as of the body.

I have devoted more space to this establishment than any other single institution of the kind, but there are many scattered about the land, the work of missionary boards and while only treating an infinitestimal part of the sick and needy, still the work they do is beyond compare and then too, while at the work they train young natives as nurses and students and thus increase the work as they go along. A little money goes a long way here and the cause is noble. It was especially demonstrated during the battle of Foochow, which took place November 9 and 10th, 1911. It was merely a skirmish compared with great conflicts, yet many were killed and wounded and the hospital was truly a Godsend. The Tartar, or imperial force, were opposed by the revolutionists and for a while the battle raged fiercely. The imperial forces were posted in the city and the republicans were on a comanding height at one side and had artillery in addition. The firing was constant the first day and the balls whizzed by the mission compound, but went on both sides and did the building no harm. The hospital was equipped pretty well with means for treating wounded and its services were greatly needed. All ladies had been warned to leave the city and Mrs. Kinnear had gone with reluctance, leaving her husband at his post. He and others and done guard duty about the mission compound and had shown true heroism in many ways.

As the battle progressed wounded began to be brought in and for days that brave and capable man and his little corps of assistants worked as only devoted men can labor under such circumstances. Doctors from other mission hospitals came to help and there were two of them, Dr. Naylor of the English mission, and Dr. Shereon of the Methodist mission, so that with a doctor from the gunboat, who also gave his services, the hospital under the leadership of Dr. Kinnear was a busy place. Mrs. Kinnear returned in the thick of the work and being a thoroughly trained nurse, was able to afford great assistance in her capacity.

At first only Chinese or republican soldiers were brought in and as they had been victorious it looked for a while as if the poor Tartars or imperial wounded would have no help, but Dr. Kinnear gave them to understand he knew no distinction under such circumstances and it was a wonderful revelation to them, as they supposed they would be put to death by all who sympathized with the revolutionary forces. Heroically the hospital forces labored, taking off arms and legs when necessary and attending to all the wounded in every possible manner, though the great number made it utterly impossible to give them prompt attention, as was to be desired, but the battle and work of the hospital well demonstrated the spirit of the missionary doctors and the desire to do good regardless of the character of the needy person.

Dr. Kinnear lives in a home near the hospital and his residence is a haven of rest for many a person. Mrs. Kinnear is a perpetual ray of sunshine and a comfort to many a sorrowful and lonely person. Thoroughly practical she is able at the same time to shed the light of her happy countenance and the tender sympathy of her warm heart where most needed. As the doctor prescribes she takes the slips of paper and fills the prescriptions and the smile which accompanies the doses is often worth more than the medicine itself. It is interesting to stay in the dispensary any morning and see the cases that flock there to be treated. The doctor has a number of students whom he is training and the scene is peculiar. The doctor charges an insignificant fee when the patient is able to pay, but treats all needy ones free of charge. An attendant receives all applications and gives each a small stick on which certain characters and colors indicate the nature of the case regarding the number of the visit. Whether a new case or a return call, whether free or pay, and so on. These sticks have small holes in them and are hung on a large board with nails for their reception and at the close of a forenoon work it is interesting to look at them. An ordinary half day will disclose the visits of 150 suffering ones and frequently the number far exceeds that.

A doctor would be much interested in the cases, abscesses, toothache, poisoning, all sorts of deformities, troubles of the eye and ear, fevers, and in fact every sort of ill to which human flesh is heir. In the midst of all is the genial doctor, always a smile on his face and a kind word for all whom he meets. He and his noble wife have a good knowledge of the dreadful language and can talk to the suffering ones who come for relief. The doctor individually sees all patients and perhaps treats them himself or turns them over to his assistants for attention and sees that all is done properly and the way in which he dispatches business is remarkable. Cases of surgery are postponed for another time and often complicated operations are performed and generally with success, though of course he is human with all the limitations of mortal man. Think what a colossal fortune such a man could accumulate in the United States, where his talents would be in demand.

Mr. Christian is able to afford material assistance in administering anesthetics and in different ways can make himself useful when his services are needed and he can be spared from his many other arduous labors. The hospital is constantly in need of supplies and any one who likes to place money where it will do lots of good can do no better than devote it to the cause.

Turks Picnic at Home.

"Simple life" picnicking in the house is thoroughly understood by the Turk. The real old fashioned Turk indeed, as Sir Charles Eliot shows, reveals his inherited nomadic instincts by treating a house merely as a place to camp in. Rooms are not assigned to special purposes. "You sit in a room and write on your hand. When you are hungry you call. A little table is brought in, and you eat. When you want to go to bed a pile of rugs is laid in a corner, and you go to sleep on it." Then a scene at Yildiz—secretaries working in a red plush room furnished in European style. "Some were sitting curled up in armchairs, with their inkpots poised perilously on the arms, the idea of having a writing table never having come into their heads. Some were squatting on the floor, eating with their fingers off broad dishes placed on a low table. One was taking a siesta in the corner."—St. James' Gazette.

Disabused His Mind.

At a London theater the other night, when a well known actress was weeping bitterly on the stage, a sensitive countryman burst into tears and wept audibly.

"What are you making that row for?" asked a neighbor.

"I'm thinking o' that poor creature's distress," was the reply.

"What? Don't you know she's paid £20 a week to do that?"

"Eh? Twenty pounds a week! Do you mean to say her crying's not real?"

"Of course not."

"Then all I've got to say is she's a deceitful hussy." And up he got and went out. "Twenty pounds a week," he was muttering as he moved into the street, "and to kick up all that row too."—London Globe.

Diseases They Have In Scotland.

Has Scotland still its own word for measles? Dean Ramsay relates that in 1775 Mrs. Betty Muirhead, who kept a boarding school for young ladies in the Trongate of Glasgow, asked a new pupil whether she had had smallpox. "Yes, mem," replied the girl. "I've had the sma'pox, the nirls, the blabs, the scay, the kinkhost and the fever, the branks and the worm." "Sma'pox" and even the vague "fever" might not worry an English reader, but it needs a glossary to interpret the others in order as measles, nettlerash, itch, whooping cough, mumps and toothache.—London Tatler.

Counterthrust.

"A very good retort!" said a senator in an argument. "A very good retort indeed! It reminds me of Weeks.

"Weeks and his wife were quarreling.

"'The night you proposed,' said Mrs. Weeks, with a hard, scornful laugh, 'you acted like a fish out of water.'

"Weeks sighed.

"'But a very cleverly landed fish,' he said, in a musing voice."—Washington Star.

A STRONG REFERENCE.

A young man recently applied for a position with a large printing house, and not having a letter of reference, offered his bank book. It showed a regularity of entries of deposit. It was a very strong recommendation, indicating character and persistency, which finally secured for him a good position.

WALL STREET HAS A GENUINE BULL MARKET

PESSIMISM GIVES WAY TO ENTHUSIASM.

Belief That Recent Downward Movements Had Been Overdone, Underlies Various Developments Which Send Market Up.

(By Associated Press)

New York, June 12.—After a long and gloomy period of falling prices, Wall street today experienced the distinctly novel sensation of having a genuine bull market. For the time being at least pessimism gave way to enthusiasm. Unfavorable factors which weighed so heavily over the market a few days ago seemed to have been temporarily lost sight of and from the time the market opened until the day was done the forward movement went on uninterrupted. Canadian Pacific bounded up 7 points, Union Pacific 6, Southern Pacific 4½, Lehigh Valley and Reading 4, and most other active stocks 3 or more. Trading was active and many blocks of 5,000 shares or more changed hands.

Various developments of the day helped to send up the market. Underlying them all, however, was the belief of many traders that the recent downward movement had been overdone, that fears had been exaggerated, that pessimism had run out of bounds.

Technical conditions called for a reaction, the force of which was increased by a concurrent reaction in sentiment. Conditions were thus ripe for a ready response to the new bullish influences of the day. Perhaps the most influential of these influences was Secretary McAdoo's announcement that he would sanction issuance of emergency currency. It was not generally believed that banks would find it necessary to avail themselves immediately of this measure of relief but the prospect of continued tightness in time money with the possibilities of a serious squeeze in the fall had been causing no little anxiety and this indication that the secretary will do all in his power to avert such conditions was definitely helpful to the market. While few time loans were placed, that market continuing to be mostly nominal, heavy purchases of mercantile paper were made by large banks. One institution took up $7,000,000 of prime mercantile paper at 6 per cent. This was accepted as an indication of increased confidence on the part of large financial interests in the outlook.

Union Pacific's plan to trade its Southern Pacific stock for Pennsylvania's holdings of Baltimore & Ohio apparently opened a way for disposing of a substantial part of Union Pacific's $126,000,000 of Southern Pacific and was a large factor in the strength of the Harriman stocks.

BULLISH SENTIMENT BECOMES RAMPANT

NEW INVESTORS BUY WHEAT FREELY.

Reports That Hot Winds Followed Frosts in Northwest and Active Milling Demand Lends Buoyancy to Prices—Corn and Oats Gain.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 12.—Although it was generally conceded that dry weatherdamage in nortohwest was more prospective than otherwise, bullish sentiment today regarding wheat became rampant. The market closed strong at an advance of ⅝c to ⅞@1c net. Corn finished ½c to ⅝c up and oats with a gain of ¾@⅞c to 1⅛c. The outcome in provisions varied from last night's level to an increased cost of 2½@5c.

New investors bought wheat freely withstanding that midway in today's session some of the larger longs indulged in profit-taking and brought about temporarily a substantial reaction. Other influences were almost lost sight of owing to the overwhelming interest attaching to field advices from the spring crop belt.

The effect of greater confidence in the security market, however, counted somewhat and so also did drought reports from Russia.

Temperatures ranging up to 100 degrees in the Canadian northwest were supplemented by dispatches from this side of the boundary that hot winds exhausting moisture had suddenly followed recent frosts and that the result could not help being unfavorable to wheat. Active milling demand lent substained buoyancy to prices in transactions near the close.

Export clearances of wheat and flour equalled 301,000 bushels. Primary receipts of wheat were 566,000 bushels; a year ago 308,000 bushels.

Remarkable buying of corn lifted active months into the sixties. Parts of Illinois and Ohio complained of injury from dry weather succeeding frost. In oats, the main feature was the lively purchasing on the part of country houses.

Provisions averaged a little higher on account of an advance in the hog market. Realizing sales by owners moderated any tendency toward a decided bulge.

Gave Him A New Stomach

"There are thousands of sufferers from stomach and liver troubles whom I wish I could meet and tell what Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets would do for them," writes H. M. Youngpeters, editor of the Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "One bottle of the tablets would end the trouble for most of them. I suffered intensely after eating and never felt well, and no treatment or medicine I tried ever seemed to do me any good until reading an advertisement for Chamberlain's Tablets in my own paper, I tried a bottle. The first few doses gave me surprising relief, and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfect good health. I didn't think anything would give me such a complete cure. They are wonderful."

NOTES & REPORTS

RETAILERS KNOW THAT PRINTER'S INK MAKES PEOPLE THINK. GOOD LIGHTS WILL BRING PEOPLE OUT AT NIGHT.

The question of good lights for Jacksonville seems to be a thing of the past. Not only is the residence district of our city poorly lighted, but the business district would be just as dark if were not for the few progressive merchants who have their windows lighted because of their window displays.

We should all keep thinking and talking "Good Lights" and perhaps in the near future they will become a realization.

THE MARCH OF CITIES.

The government of cities can be well likened unto private enterprises, if they are carefully and efficiently managed they will prosper and grow. To overcome the defects and simplify the government of municipalities various plans have been devised.

About twelve years ago the Galveston and Des Moines plan of governent by commission was brought into existence, and today it has found hearty acceptance among many cities of the United States. Two hundred and fifty cities are now managing their affairs under this form of government and just recently Jersey City, with the population of 267,779, adopted this form of government.

Various authorities have written at length arguments for and against this form of government. A late report which has been complied by the heads of the Political Science Department of the University of Illinois show that in some cities conditions have been much improved through this form of city government, while in other cities little improvement has been made over the old council form.

Heavy responsibility rests on a commission when it consists of five men who are supposed to represent all the interests of the people. If these men manage the cities' affairs as judiciously and as economically as they would their own private business the city is bound to progress and public improvements are sure to follow.

Jacksonville has streets which are not paved or which are worse than not paved, and many of the property owners would welcome ordinances that would compel them to make such improvements. State Street is one of the most beautiful streets that can be found in any city, yet it is impossible to take visitors down the street in automobiles.

POULTRY CULTURE.
Article VII.

Specialization—The poultry plant of today, devoted exclusively to fowls and the production of poultry products is one of the best examples of specialized intensive agriculture. Business men, successful in other lines of industry have noticed the continual and steadily increasing demand for eggs, dressed poultry and fancy fowls. They have noted the excellent prices paid for the best poultry products, have considered the question of location, buildings, live stock, labor; transportation and all other necessary investments and expenses. They have thought it possible to make a special business of poultry keeping and in numerous instances have proved the reasonableness of their calculations.

Specialization tends to concentration of thought, effort and means upon the producing of one thing or a certain few things. There results better quality and larger quantities of the special product and better prices with increased demand for the same.

Essentials—The principles which underlie success in any business apply in poultry keeping. The business man when he runs a poultry plant brings to it business methods, systematic habits of thinking and sufficient capital, three factors which are most necessary to success in intensive poultry culture.

Methodical vim applied to poultry keeping results in the pushing of the business instead of being pushed by it. There are regular times for duties; the work goes on systematically, things are kept in order and necessary records and accounts are attended to properly.

Systematic thinking is a personal habit of the proprietor or the poultryman. He sets his mind on the working out of the problems, plans and possibilities of the business and does not stop thinking until the solution is found and success is an assured fact.

Main Object—The main object of the poultryman or proprietor of the special business poultry plant is to win financial gain as in any other commercial undertaking. Let him first become so intensely practical that he conducts his business of producer on strict business principles and both profit and pleasure may be guaranteed to the right man, who, with brains to plan well, capital to invest wisely and tenacity of purpose to compel success, will proceed systematically to work out the solution of his special problems. Accounts must be kept and studied.

Failures—Failures of special poultry plants have occurred. The poultryman should, if possible, investigate these cases and ascertain the causes of ill success. The reason may perhaps be found in a bad choice of location, lack of capital, careless investment or the improper proportion of fixed and floating capital. Mistakes are made in the placing of the buildings as well as in planinng and constructing them. There may have been poor business sense or lack of proper direction and push on the part of the proprietor. Possibly he may have emloyed an "adventurer" for a poultryman.—H. A. McKeene, Secretary, Illinois Farmers' Institute.

JUDGE BARHORST DOES HIS DUTY TO RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS

If you suffer from Rheumatism and don't read this advice, then the terrible disease must have robbed you of your power to be fair to yourself. Read it:

"I, John Barhorst, Justice of the Peace of McLean Township, Ft. Loramie, Ohio, do certify that after treatment by three doctors without result, I have been cured of a very and case of Rheumatism by using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the remedy and I am still as well as ever. Previous to using RHEUMA I was a cripple, walking with crutches, and I feel it my duty to let other sufferers from Rheumatism know what it will do. The result seems almost miraculous to me. I have advised RHEUMA to at least a dozen persons, and each one speaks as highly of it as I. I will answer any one suffering from the disease if a two cent stamp is enclosed."—May 31, 1912.

You can secure a bottle of RHEUMA for only 50 cents at Coover & Shreve and if not as advertised, money back. It's just as good for Gout, Arthritis, Lumbago and Sciatica.

MORGAN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Regular Meeting Held Yesterday—Dr. Adams Talks of Infant Blindness.

The Morgan County Medical society met Thursday. In the morning operations were done at Passavant hospital and cases shown both at Passavant and Our Savior's hospitals by Dr. A. R. Gregory and Dr. A. L. Adams.

At 1 p. m. on the lawn of Passavant hospital the regular meeting was held at which time reports were given by members who attended the state meeting held in Peoria last May. Dr. Charles E. Cole acted as temporary chairman and Dr. A. L. Adams presented the topic of "Prevention of Blindness in the New Born." The doctor's paper was replete with statistics concerning that all too prevalent condition. Only by education of the public along this line and operations of competent physicians can the mortality of infection of the eyes of newly born babies be reduced by using proper antiseptics soon after birth. Infection can thus be prevented and the eyesight be saved. Dr. Stacy showed a specimen of blood from a malaria patient. Dr. F. M. Roberts of Chapin was among the out of town physicians present.

The Morgan County Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis has announced the presentation Sunday of a silk Red Cross banner to the Sunday school whose pupils have done the most work in preparation for Flag Day, June 14, and have sold the most tickets to Mr. Johnson's lecture on the "Evolution of the American Flag." The emblem will be retained by the winning school until another occasion for a similar contest arises when it will again be used as a reward for work in support of the society. It may be kept by the Sunday school winning it three times. Materials for the banner were contributed by Johnson, Hackett & Guthrie, Waddell's and Hillerby's. The lecturer, Dr. Charles Johnson of Champaign, has offered to give this address free, which he has given in his home city more than a half a dozen times. To illustrate this romantic phase of our history he has had made a collection of over fifty replicas of the famous flags which have figured in the growth of the union, among which is a likeness of one carried by Capt. Abram Markoe in 1877. Dr. Johnson is a Son of the American Revolution and a member of the State Medical society.

BARBER IS ACQUITTED.

A peculiar case came up in the McLean county circuit court in Bloomington recently. It was the case of Frank H. Allen against J. C. Underwood. The defendant is the proprietor of a barber shop and damages were claimed to the extent of $200 on the ground that Allen contracted what is known as barber's itch from being shaved in Underwood's shop. The defendant claimed that the ailment with which Allen's cafe was afflicted was not barber's itch, but something of a different nature. Expert opinions from doctors were introduced during the course of the testimony and the jury gave in a verdict in favor of the defendant.

It's the way the suits sold by Garland & Co., are tailored that make them superior.

REPAIRING CROSSING.

The Burlington railroad company had a force of men at work repairing the crossing at East State street. PAY HONOR TO FORMER ILLINOIS COLLEGE FACULTY MEMBERS

Portraits of Harold W. Johnston and Edward B. Clapp are Presented by Classes of 1887 and 1888.

Just as the close of the Illinois College Alumni luncheon Wednesday and really after a great many of the company had left the gymnasium a simple little ecermony but one of great moment took place. On behalf of the class of 1887 Rev. Thomas W. Smith made presentation of a portrait of Dr. E. B. Clapp and George L. Merrill acting in a like manner for the class of 1888 presented a portrait of the late Dr. Harold W. Johnston. These portraits which have been enlarged from the best photographs obtainable are in charge of Prof. Tanner representing the faculty of the college and will probably be hung in the college library although the matter of detail has not yet been definitely arranged. The presentation of these portraits by the graduates of twenty-five and twenty-six years ago may be taken to carry with it the suggestion that at some time more pretentious portraits, probably life size and done in oil should hang in some conspicuous place on the college walls.

Dr. Edward B. Clapp left Illinois college to become professor of Greek at the University of California. The class of 1887 in Illinois college was the first one to complete a full course in Greek under him. Because of this fact and from the added fact that the members of the class made special progress in Greek, the relations between Dr. Clapp and these students were more than usually cordial and have been maintained from 1887 until the present.

Dr. Edward Capps now of Princeton is one member of the class who since his graduation has become an authority with more than a national reputation in matters relating to the Greek language and literature and received his first inspiration from Dr. Clapp.

It was in 1891 that Dr. Clapp surrendered his host at Illinois college to take up the larger duties of the University of California but the influence of his work in the college on the hill has by no means passed away. His connection with the college and the work he did in the years from 1882 to 1891 had much to do with the position the institution took in the educational world, and has since maintained.

Just about a year ago Dr. Harold W. Johnston passed on into another world. His work in Illinois college dated from 1880 and extended to 1896 when he resigned the chair of Latin at the college to take the position of head of the department of Latin at the University of Indiana. Dr. Johnston was one of a group of the faculty who had a vast influence upon the students who came in contact with him. He was a splendid teacher, a brilliant scholar, a man so thoroughly imbued with the work in which he specialized yet at the time so thoroughly human and common place if one may use the expression, that he was a great force in the life of the college and the life of Jacksonville during the years that he remained here. It was only after receiving numerous tempting offers, that for the sake of his family he finally accepted one and severed his connection with Illinois college. After leaving here the books he published and the splendid work he did, as head of the Latin department in a great university both added to his influence and renown, yet those who new him intimately can testify that his heart was still with Illinois college. Nothing could be more fitting than the beginning of a movement to recognize the vast and beneficial influence that Dr. Johnston and Dr. Clapp exerted on the college. The members of the classes of 1887 and 1888 were especially intimate with these "giants" and so it is well that they are the ones to come forward with this potent suggestion of recognition.
